Everything To Gain: Using Web Apps To Grow Your Business

We all have technology horror stories of crashing hard drives, lost phones and corrupted presentations right before the big staff meeting. Rather than trying to invest more into technology, we will explore smart ways to invest less. Learn how to improve communication in your company and with your clients without breaking the bank using web apps. Everything from electronic signatures to employee perks can be done online. Join Adria Richards as she takes you through a set of new and interesting tools cropping up to meet the needs of companies everywhere.
