

Alan Barr

Rector at Church of Ireland

Omagh, Tyrone, GB

Rector, Author and Local historian living in Northren
Ireland

Biography

I started my working life in The Bacteriology Labs in a busy Belfast Hospital. After nine years of traing and working in a sicientific environment I moved to Work as an evangelsit in the Anglican Church in the UK. I worked in Northren ireland, England and Ireland. After 20 years as an Evangelsit I went to Trinity College, Dunblin where I obtained a degree in Theology. I was ordained as an Anglican Minister by the ArchBishop of Dublin in 2007. I am now the Rector of two small parishes in Rural Northern ireland. I am married and have two teenage daughters.

Availability

Keynote, Panelist, Workshop, Author Appearance

Industry Expertise

Religious Institutions, Writing and Editing

Areas of Expertise

Christianity, Writing, Christianity and Science

Sample Talks

How can I write and publish a book.

I go through the process of writing a factual or fiction book. I start with what you need (access to a computer and the Internet). I look at the right programme to use, how to get your work edited, formatted and published. I also look at marketing strategies. Most of the resources I point people to are free, some require a small outlay.

Education

Trinity College Dublin

B.Th Theology

Ulster Polytechnic

HNC Medical Laboratory Science (Bacteriology)

Accomplishments

The Right Yoke

My Book is a how to book for Christian Pastors and ministers. It covers topics like setting up an office, keeping healthy and stress free and enjoying both work and family life. I published this book as an ebook and as a print book using free and paid for Internet services such a Elance for editors, Lulu for free print publishing and Smashwords for free ebook publishing.

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.