

Allen Cornelius, PhD

Faculty Research Specialist - Clinical Psychology at Fielding Graduate University

Colorado Springs, CO, US

Using humor to teach research and counseling skills

Biography

Allen Cornelius has a broad background in teaching and research. He obtained his BA in Chemistry and Philosophy from Franklin & Marshall College and an MFS in Forensic Science from George Washington University. He later received an MA in sport psychology and a PhD in counseling psychology from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. He has worked as a counselor in a college counseling center and done grant-funded research on psychological factors related to adherence to rehabilitation after ACL knee surgery. He served as Commissioner of Research for the NFF Center for Youth Development through Sport at Springfield College, where he was responsible for the evaluation of a nationwide, multi-site youth development program, and other youth development initiatives. Cornelius has authored or co-authored over 100 presentations or publications, and has served as a research and statistical consultant for grants totaling over $2.5 million.

Industry Expertise

Research, Education/Learning

Areas of Expertise

Research Methods, Statistics, Sport Psychology and Performance Enhancement, Youth Development and Performance Enhancement, Youth Development Through Sport, Interdisciplinarity, Humor and Psychotherapy, Teaching Statistics

Affiliations

American Psychological Association : Member

Event Appearances

Stress-related growth after anterior cruciate ligament reconstruction.
Annual meeting of the American Psychological Association

Consulting and working with interdisciplinary teams - Barriers and Benefits.
American Psychological Association annual convention

Student-athlete career development Paper Presentation

National Collegiate Athletic Association, Accelerating Academic Success Program

Mental health referral for student-athletes: Web-based education and training

Annual Convention of the National Collegiate Athletic Association

Treadmill Time - A sensitive indicator of improved functional capacity on CKD

American Academy of Sports Medicine

Education

University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Ph.D., Counseling Psychology

University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Master of Arts, Sport Psychology

George Washington University

Master of Forensic Sciences

Franklin and Marshall College

Bachelor of Arts Chemistry and Philosophy

Accomplishments

Faculty of the Year Award

(October, 2011/2014) Awarded by the University of the Rockies.

The President's Own

(August, 2010) Inaugural inductee, an honor of the University of the Rockies.

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.