

Norman Lewis

Associate Professor at University of Florida

Gainesville, FL, US

Norman Lewis researches news culture, and in particular, data journalism and professional plagiarism.

Biography

Norm Lewis has a quarter-century of experience in newspapers, ranging from the Washington Post financial desk to smaller dailies. His research involves news culture, and in particular, data journalism and professional plagiarism. He also studies the role that social media play in news and digital news economics, in part stemming from his background as a former publisher and editor. Norm is an associate professor in the College of Journalism and Communications and the James M. Cox Jr. Foundation/The Palm Beach Post Professorship in New Media recipient.

Industry Expertise

Media Production, Media - Online, Media - Print

Areas of Expertise

Data Journalism, Editing, News Culture, Visualization, News Creation, Numeracy and Coding, International Journalism, Ethics/Professional Responsibility, Media Management and Economics, Digital and Mobile Media Communication

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.