

Barry Joyner

Dean and Professor of Exercise Science at Georgia Southern University

Statesboro, GA, US

Barry Joyner is an expert in physical activity, exercise science, teaching/learning, and outcome assessment.

Biography

Dr. Joyner received his Bachelor of Science in Education with a major in Health and Physical Education from Georgia Southern College, his Master of Education in Physical Education from Auburn University, and his Doctor of Philosophy in Measurement and Evaluation from the University of Georgia. Dr. Joyner began his academic career teaching middle and high school physical education in Cobb County Schools. He came to Georgia Southern University in 1992. Dr. Joyner became an Associate Professor in the Jiann-Ping Hsu College of Public Health (formerly housed in the Department of Health and Kinesiology, now School of Health & Kinesiology) from 1998 through 2005. In 2005, he assumed the role of Professor and Chair of the Department (School) of Health and Kinesiology, a position he has held until now. The author of over forty journal articles, numerous abstracts and local/state/national/international presentations, book chapters and reviews, Dr. Joyner has expertise in physical activity, exercise science, teaching/learning, and outcome assessment. Most recently, he chaired the University Committee on Core Outcomes which produced an exceptional outline for the Board of Regents' core educational requirements for Georgia Southern. He holds an ex-officio role on the General Education Committee and has served on numerous University committees including Student Ratings of Instruction, Program Review, Faculty Roles and Rewards, and Graduate Assistant Allocation.

Areas of Expertise

Outcome Assessment, Exercise Science, Physical Activity

Education

University of Georgia

Ph.D.

Auburn University

M.E.

Georgia Southern College

B.Sc. Ed

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.