This is a positive factor because brings a high standard of life quality. The unemployment level is reduced. Moreover, unlike the other projects presented in the country, the VI Region is the richest natural area of Chile, with the highest underground copper mine in the world, agricultural development areas, vineyards, coastal and more. Added to this, mention that they are situated on part in the network of the "Bioceanic Corridor" Las Lenas, which aims to reduce logistics costs and transportation of the production chain from Asia to the European Union, reducing 12,000 nautical miles and being seen as the future international trading post. This is a business pole attractor of income and improved quality of life as demonstrated in all global cases, others say the tourist attraction is also increased by this new trend.
