

Brandon R. Davis

Assistant Professor at Tulane University

New Orleans, LA, US

Brandon R. Davis, PhD, focuses on American politics, law and society, and race and ethnic politics.

Biography

Brandon R. Davis is an assistant professor in the Department of Political Science and the Murphy Institute at Tulane University. His research focuses on American politics, law and society, and race and ethnic politics. Davis is interested in normative and empirical approaches to institutions, representation, and criminal justice. In 2022, the National Science Foundation awarded funding for his proposal CAREER: We Dare Defend Our Rights: The Political Use of Law in the Enforcement of Voting Rights. NSF identifies these five-year, $500,000 integrated research and teaching awards as its most prestigious award for early-career scholars.

Areas of Expertise

Law & Society, American Politics, Race and Ethnicity in the U.S.

Education

University of Alabama

Master of Arts Gender and Race Studies

University of Alabama

PhD Political Science

Alabama A&M

Master of Social Work Social Work

University of Alabama at Birmingham

Bachelor of Science Psychology and Sociology

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.