

Brian Kloeppe

Professor at Western Carolina University

Cullowhee, NC, US

Brian Kloeppe's scholarly interests include watershed ecology, carbon and water cycling, forest growth and dynamics.

Biography

Brian Kloeppe's organizational interests include strategic planning, graduate program development, and biological field station site reviews and planning. His scholarly interests include watershed ecology, carbon and water cycling, forest growth and dynamics, and the policies regulating the conservation and management of these resources. He enjoys working with students at the undergraduate and graduate level and empowering them with the tools and techniques, both academic and professional, to grow and develop their careers in science, health care, business, education, and the humanities.

Areas of Expertise

Forest Growth and Dynamics, Watershed Ecology, Graduate Program Development, Strategic Planning, Biological Field Station Site Reviews and Planning, Carbon and Water Cycling

Education

University of Wisconsin-Madison

Ph.D. Forest Ecology

Pennsylvania State University

M.S. Tree Physiology

University of Wisconsin-Madison

B.S. Forest Science

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.