

Claire Kamp-Dush

Associate Professor of Human Development and Family Science | Department of Sociology at The Ohio State University

Columbus, OH, US

Human sciences and sociology expert, focusing on family science

Biography

I am an associate professor of Human Sciences and Sociology (by courtesy appointment), an active affiliate of the Institute for Population Research, and graduate studies chair of the graduate program in Human Development and Family Science. I received my undergrad in Human Development and Family Studies at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, and my masters and Ph.D. in Human Development and Family Studies at the Pennsylvania State University. I have been trained across several social science disciplines. My primary mentors have been psychologist Joe Pleck at Illinois, clinical psychologist Cathy Cohan and sociologist Paul Amato at Penn State, and economist Liz Peters at Cornell. Since being at Ohio State, my primary collaborators have been developmental psychologist Sarah Schoppe-Sullivan, clinical psychologist Galena Rhoades, and sociologist Miles Taylor. I am a member of the Council on Contemporary Families, International Association for Relationship Research, National Council on Family Relations, and the Population Association of America. I review for journals in family studies, sociology, psychology, and demography.

Industry Expertise

Research, Writing and Editing, Education/Learning, Public Policy

Areas of Expertise

Intimate Relationships, Marriage, Cohabitation, Demography

Education

Institute for the Social Sciences, Cornell University

Postdoctoral Fellow

Pennsylvania State University

Ph.D. Human Development and Family Studies

Pennsylvania State University

M.S. Human Development and Family Studies

University of Illinois

B.S. Human Development and Family Studies

Accomplishments

Distinguished Teaching Award

Awarded by the College of Education and Human Ecology, The Ohio State University

Scholar of the Year Award

Awarded by the Department of Human Development and Family Science, The Ohio State University

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.