

Clare Beckton

Executive Director at Carleton University Centre for Women in Politics and Public Leadership
Ottawa, ON, CA

Author, researcher, motivational speaker, consultant, coach and leader

Biography

Clare Beckton is a former senior executive in the Canadian government including roles as Assistant Deputy attorney General Aboriginal affairs and Agency head-Status of Women Canada. She is currently Founding Executive Director of the Carleton University Centre for Women in Politics and Public Leadership and author of Own It, Your Success, Your Life, Your Future. The Centre promotes and leads research to advance women's leadership through working with a variety of partners, develops and delivers advancement of women leaders training and creates partnerships and awareness. She has extensive experience in a broad range of areas including leading large organizations, Strategic planning, governance, leadership to change systems, risk management, gender, diversity, inclusion, Aboriginal policy issues, and advancement of women's leadership. She has strong interpersonal and communication skills. She leads workshops on Owing Your Success for women, creating a diverse workplace, leads a one week development program to advance women's leadership and is a regular speaker at many events.

Industry Expertise

Corporate Leadership, Management Consulting, Women

Areas of Expertise

Women's Leadership, Strategic Planning, Risk Management, Aboriginal Policy Issues, Inclusion and Diversity, Motivational Speaker, Leadership Development

Education

Harvard University

Master's Public Administration

University of Saskatchewan

LLB Law

University of Saskatchewan

Bachelor's Degree BA

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.