

Constance Steinkuehler

Professor of Informatics at UC Irvine

Irvine, CA, US

Constance Steinkuehler researches the cognitive and social aspects of multiplayer online videogames and esports.

Biography

Constance researches the cognitive and social aspects of multiplayer online videogames and esports. Current projects include studies of teenage boys and gameplay, parenting and videogames, and impacts of the NASEF high school esports league. She formerly served as Senior Policy Analyst under the Obama administration in the White House Office of Science and Technology Policy, advising on games and digital media, and founded the Higher Education Video Games Alliance (HEVGA), a national network of game-related programs.

Areas of Expertise

Teenage Boys and Gameplay, eSports, Computer Gaming, Multiplayer Online Videogames, Parenting and Videogames

Education

University of Wisconsin-Madison

PhD Literacy Studies

University of Wisconsin-Madison

MS Cognitive Science Applied to Education

University of Missouri-Columbia

BA Mathematics, Literature, Religious Studies

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.