

Cristiano Guarana

Assistant Professor at Indiana University, Kelley School of Business

Bloomington, IN, US

Cristiano Guarana is an expert in how leaders and followers? limited attentional resources affect complex organizations.

Biography

Professor Guarana has joined the Kelley School of Business as an Assistant Professor in the Department of Management and Entrepreneurship. He earned his PhD (Management) in 2015 from the University of Washington and worked as post-doctoral researcher at the University of Virginia for two years. Professor Guarana?s research examines how leaders and followers? limited attentional resources affects decisions, relationships, and behaviors in complex organizational contexts. Prior to entering academia, Professor Guarana was an entrepreneur and played professional basketball in Brazil.

Industry Expertise

Corporate Leadership, Education/Learning

Areas of Expertise

Attention, Sleep, Leadership, Ambivalence

Education

University of Washington

Ph.D. Business Administration

Ohio University

M.B.A.

Ohio State University

M.A. Labor and Human Resources

Instituicao Toledo de Ensino

B.A. Economics

Accomplishments

Outstanding Reviewer Award, Organizational Behavior (OB) Division of the Academy of Management
2016

Finalist for the Best Paper, Managerial and Organizational Cognition (MOC) Division of the Academy of Management
2017

Winner of the Best Student Paper, Managerial and Organizational Cognition (MOC) Division of the Academy of Management
2015

Outstanding Reviewer Award, Managerial and Organizational Cognition (MOC) Division of the Academy of Management
2015, 2014, and 2013

Finalist for the Best Paper, Human Resources Division of the Academy of Management
2015

Outstanding Teaching Award, University of Washington
2015

Weidler Scholar Award for Academic Performance, The Ohio State University
2010

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.