

David Barrett, PhD

Professor of Political Science | College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at Villanova University
Villanova, PA, US

David Barrett, PhD, is a presidential historian and leading expert on the CIA's relationship with presidents and Congress.

Biography

Dr. David Barrett is one of the country's leading experts on the critical relationship between the United States Congress and the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA). Current hot topic issues such as national security and the United States presidency are other areas of specialty for Dr. Barrett. He is also a good source for stories on President Lyndon Baines Johnson's handling of the Vietnam War. Coming from a background in radio and television news, Dr. Barrett is adept at giving media interviews on his area of academic expertise.

Industry Expertise

Government Administration, Education/Learning, Research

Areas of Expertise

Politics, The Vietnam War, National Security & Intelligence Issues, United States Congress, United States Presidents, The Central Intelligence Agency, Lyndon Baines Johnson, Presidential Decision Making, Political Science

Education

University of Notre Dame
PhD

University of Essex (England)
MA

University of Notre Dame
BA

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.