Associate Professor of Theological Studies at Loyola Marymount University

Los Angeles, CA, US

Bellarmino College of Liberal Arts

Biography

David Sánchez was associate professor of Theological Studies at Loyola Marymount University. He specialized in New Testament Studies with an emphasis on the Apocalypse of John as a literary performance of counter-imperial resistance in conversation with modern modalities of sociopolitical resistance. Dr. Sanchez was also interested in the role end-time eschatologies played in early Christian mythmaking and social formations, Guadalupan studies and contemporary Guadalupan iconography. He was the author of From Patmos to the Barrio: The Subversion of Imperial Myths from the Book of Revelation to the Present (Fortress Press, 2008).
