

Dr Amanda Hall

Lecturer, Audiology at Aston University

Birmingham, , GB

Dr Hall's research focuses on the causes and impact of hearing loss in children, at both the individual and the population level.

Biography

Dr Hall is a lecturer in Audiology at Aston University, and a registered clinical scientist with Bristol Children's Hearing Service. Amanda is also the ENT Specialty Lead and Audiology champion for the West of England NIHR Clinical Research Network. Amanda's research focuses on the causes and impact of hearing loss in children, at both the individual and the population level. She is also working on developing interventions to improve shared decision making within clinical services.

Areas of Expertise

Audiology, Shared Decision Making, Audiology Health Services Research, Causes and Impact of Childhood Hearing Loss, Longitudinal Cohort Studies, RF Otorhinolaryngology

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.