Biography

Ian Maidment is a Professor in Clinical Pharmacy at Aston University. Prior to moving to academia in 2012, he spent 20+ years in practice including community pharmacy and acute pharmacy. The majority of his career was as a specialist clinical pharmacist in dementia care/mental health; he was also chief pharmacist in two NHS Trusts. He has strong links with the local NHS and the NIHR. Currently, he is joint West Midlands NIHR Community Trust Specialty Lead, member of the NIHR Dementia Portfolio Development Group and joint chair of the Society of Academic Primary Care Medication Optimisation Group. Since 2014 he has obtained £1,111K in grant income (as chief investigator) including four NIHR grants (MEDREV, MEMORABLE, RESOLVE, MEDIATE); he has also been a co-investigator on a further £3,963K of grants and a NIHR fellowship for which he is the main supervisor [£71K]. His research is focused on medication management in vulnerable populations including mental health and dementia. He has published over 110 papers in peer-reviewed journals including BMJ and the British Journal of Psychiatry and presented at 50+ international conferences/workshops in USA, Australia and most countries in Europe.
