

Elizabeth Lyons

Assistant Professor at UC San Diego

San Diego, CA, US

Her research focuses on the intersection between technology and innovation strategy, international management, and organizational economics.

Biography

Elizabeth Lyons is an assistant professor of management at the School. Her research primarily employs field experiments to study questions related to entrepreneurship, alternative work arrangements, innovation policy, and organizational economics. Her work has been published in leading Management and Economics journals, and been featured in the New York Times, Wall Street Journal, and other major media outlets. Her projects include analyses of firm hiring and organization in international labor markets, training and monitoring of remote and temporary workers, optimal incentives for novel innovation, the relationship between co-founder equity splits and production decisions, and the effects of entrepreneurship training on career decisions. She is a recipient of the 2016 Kauffman Junior Faculty Fellowship in Entrepreneurship Research. During her graduate studies, she was the associate director of the Creative Destruction Lab, a venture lab at the University of Toronto.

Areas of Expertise

Innovation Strategy, Coronavirus, Future Of Telecommuting, Telecommuting Best Practices, Technology

Affiliations

Member, Asia Innovation and Entrepreneurship Association, Member, Center for Effective Global Action, Member, Strategy Research Forum

Education

University of Toronto

Ph.D. Strategic Management

University of Toronto

A.B. Economics

Accomplishments

2015 Hartle Award

For outstanding graduate scholarship on a policy-relevant topic from the University of Toronto.

2016 Kauffman Junior Faculty Fellowship

Awarded the 2016 Kauffman Junior Faculty Fellowship in Entrepreneurship Research.

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.