

Emily Fisher

Professor at Loyola Marymount University

Los Angeles, CA, US

Department of Specialized Programs in Professional Psychology

Biography

Emily Fisher, Ph.D., is a professor in the department of Specialized Programs in Professional Psychology. She teaches courses in the School Psychology and Counseling programs on counseling and treatment of emotional and behavioral disorders with a focus on children and adolescents. Dr. Fisher has published extensively on school-based supports for LGBTQ youth. Her most recent book, Counseling Special Populations in Schools, addresses strength-based approaches to build resilience among highly marginalized young people, including those who are homeless, living in foster care, and involved in the juvenile justice system. Dr. Fisher is also interested in methods to develop cultural humility among pre-service professionals. Her experience working in clinical, juvenile justice, and school settings informs her work.

Industry Expertise

Education/Learning, Mental Health Care

Areas of Expertise

Counseling Children & Adolescents, School Supports for LGBTQ Youth, Positive Psychology, Solution-Focused Brief Counseling, Multicultural Counseling, Social Justice

Affiliations

American Counseling Association, National Association of School Psychologists, Trainers of School Psychology, NASP LGBTQI2-S Committee

Education

University of California Santa Barbara

Ph.D. Counseling/Clinical/School Psychology

University of California Santa Barbara

M.A Counseling Psychology

Connecticut College

B.A. Psychology

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.