Biography

Emily Lund, PhD, CCC-SLP is an Associate Professor in the Davies School of Communication Sciences and Disorders at Texas Christian University. Dr. Lund earned a Bachelor's degree in Economics and Spanish, a Master's degree in Speech-Language Pathology, and a Ph.D. in Speech and Hearing Sciences from Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tennessee. Prior to receiving her Ph.D., Dr. Lund worked as a clinical, bilingual speech-language pathologist in the National Center for Childhood Deafness and Family Communication at the Vanderbilt Bill Wilkerson Center. Dr. Lund's research investigates the ways that language use contributes to spoken and written language learning in monolingual and bilingual children who are deaf and hard of hearing. Her work has been consistently funded by the National Institutes of Health (National Institute on Deafness and Other Communication Disorders) and the American Speech Language Hearing Foundation. Dr. Lund received the Fort Worth Business Press Healthcare Heroes Award in 2017 for her work in caregiver coaching for children who are deaf and hard of hearing.
