

Eric L. Richards

Professor of Business Law at Indiana University, Kelley School of Business

Bloomington, IN, US

Professor Richards' research is focused on antitrust law, constitutional law and international trade.

Biography

Professor Richards has been a Professor of Business Law in the Department of Business Law and Ethics at the Kelley School of Business since 1979. Prior to his appointment at the Kelley School, he spent two years as an Assistant Professor of Business Law at the University of Kansas. Throughout his teaching career, Professor Richards has published extensively in both law and business law journals. His research has focused on antitrust law, constitutional law, and international trade. He also has served as an editor for the American Business Law Journal. Professor Richards has taught at the undergraduate, graduate, and executive level both in the United States and Europe. He has taught courses covering ethics, personal law, the legal environment of business, commercial law, and international trade law. During his career, he has authored or co-authored four text books covering both U.S. domestic law and international trade law. These texts are used at universities throughout the world. During his career, Professor Richards has received over 30 university and national awards for his research and teaching. He currently serves as the Chair of Indiana University's Kelley Direct Public MBA program.

Industry Expertise

Education/Learning, Writing and Editing, Research

Areas of Expertise

International Trade, Antitrust Law, Constitutional Law, Personal Law, Commercial Law

Secondary Titles

Chair of East Asian Initiatives

Education

Indiana University

J.D. Law

Indiana University

B.A. Political Science

Accomplishments

Hoerber Memorial Award for Outstanding Article

2015 In the American Business Law Journal.

Kelley Direct Teaching Excellence Award

2008 Award by the Kelley School of Business, Indiana University.

Harry C. Sauvain Undergraduate Teaching Award

2005 Award by the Kelley School of Business, Indiana University.

Schuyler F. Otteson Teaching Excellence Award

2003 Award by the Kelley School of Business, Indiana University.

Best Case Writing Award

2002 Awarded by the Academy of Legal Studies in Business.

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.