

Gregg Murray, PhD

Professor of Political Science at Augusta University

Augusta, GA, US

Murray's research focuses on political behavior and psychology with specific interests in voter mobilization.

Biography

Murray is a professor of political science at Augusta University. His research focuses on political behavior with specific interests in voter mobilization and turnout. His research has appeared in journals such as American Politics Research, Expert Systems with Applications, Journal of Peace Research, Journal of Political Marketing, Political Psychology, Political Research Quarterly, Politics and the Life Sciences, Public Opinion Quarterly, Social Science Quarterly, and Social Science Research. He is also the Editor-in-Chief of Politics and the Life Sciences, an international, peer-reviewed journal published by Cambridge University Press. He teaches courses on political behavior and research methods. He received his Ph.D. from the University of Houston in 2003.

Industry Expertise

Education/Learning

Areas of Expertise

Government Responses to COVID-19, Research Methods, Political Behavior, U.S. Government, Public Opinion, Public Policy, Voting

Affiliations

Augusta University Center for Bioethics and Health Policy : Affiliated Faculty, Association for Politics and the Life Sciences , Psychology Today, Editor-in-chief of the journal Politics and the Life Sciences

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.