

Inas Kelly

Professor and Chair of Economics at Loyola Marymount University

Los Angeles, CA, US

Bellarmino College of Liberal Arts

Biography

Inas Kelly is an applied microeconomist at Loyola Marymount University and a research associate in the Health Economics program at the National Bureau of Economic Research (NBER). Her primary fields are health economics, labor economics, and public policy. She was Co-Editor-in-Chief of the peer-reviewed Elsevier journal Economics and Human Biology from January 2013 to January 2018 and is Co-Editor of the Oxford Handbook of Economics and Human Biology.

Areas of Expertise

Applied Microeconomics, Labor Economics, Health Economics, Public Policy

Affiliations

Research Associate, National Bureau of Economic Research, Fellow, Schaeffer Center, University of Southern California, American Economic Association, American Society of Health Economists, Eastern Economic Association, International Health Economics Association, Southern Economic Association

Event Appearances

Economic Incentives Surrounding Fertility: Evidence from Alaska's Permanent Fund Dividend
California State University Long Beach

Economic Growth and Renewable and Non-Renewable Energy Consumption: Evidence from the U.S. States

Loyola Marymount University Economics Department Brown Bag

You Can't Be Too Rich But You Can Be Too Thin

Center for Health Economics and Policy Studies, San Diego State University

Earnings Gaps for Conspicuous Characteristics: Evidence from Indonesia

Allied Social Science Associations Conference, Philadelphia, PA

Please See CV for a complete listing of Event Appearances.

*

Education

The Graduate Center, City University of New York
PhD Economics

Queens College of the City University of New York
B.A. Economics

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.