Contact: Phone: 310.338.7631 Email: Jeff.Sanny@lmu.edu Office: Seaver 115 Dr. Jeff Sanny received his B. S. from Harvey Mudd College and his Ph. D. from UCLA in experimental solid state physics. His research interests were primarily in the low-temperature magnetic properties of quasi one-dimensional crystals. These were studied using electron spin resonance in the millikelvin temperature range, which is achieved using a dilution refrigerator.

Industry Expertise

Research, Education/Learning

Areas of Expertise

Physics, Teaching, Low-Temperature Physics, Experimental Solid State Physics, Magnetospheric Physics

Education

University of California at Los Angeles

Ph.D. Experimental Solid State Physics

Harvey Mudd College

B.S. Physics
