

Jeremy Pressman, Ph.D.

Associate Professor of Political Science, Director of Middle East Studies at University of Connecticut

Storrs, CT, US

Dr. Pressman specializes in the Arab-Israeli peace process, US foreign policy, and the scope of political protests in the United States.

Biography

Jeremy Pressman (MIT, PhD) studies international relations, the Arab-Israeli conflict, Middle East politics, and U.S. foreign policy. He is writing a book on force and diplomacy in the Arab-Israeli conflict. Pressman has held fellowships at Harvard University, the University of Sydney, and the Humanities Institute at the University of Connecticut. Pressman previously worked at the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and is a former term member of the Council on Foreign Relations.

Areas of Expertise

Political Protests, Middle East Peace Process, Arab-Israeli Conflict

Education

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Ph.D. Political Science

Brandeis University

B.A. Politics and Near Eastern and Judaic Studies

Accomplishments

Alan Bennett Award

Awarded by the Department of Political Science, University of Connecticut.

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.