Thomas A. Kelly, Jr

?Our organization needed an injection of enthusiasm and fresh perspectives to maintain interest and participation. Jim provided both of those in abundance when speaking at our last quarterly meeting. He engaged the audience with just the right combination of humor and thought-provoking issues that resulted in a range of laughter, contemplation, and enlightening banter. Feedback from the membership has been overwhelmingly positive and enthusiastic. I certainly made the right decision in asking Jim to provide our group with a renewed sense of passion for their personal and professional lives.?
