Biography

I am the Automation/E2E Manager for MEDHOST, which is a healthcare software company located in Franklin, TN. I lead a team of 28 QA engineers that is responsible for the automation and end-to-end testing of all of our applications. I have 8+ years of QA experience ranging from small, Agile teams at various startups to working with large distributed teams.

Sample Talks

QA & You

How do QA and developers work together in a manner that is not combative, and delivers the highest quality product. I will explore this topic, and provide examples of how to best integrate the two teams together. While this is presented primarily from an Agile approach, I will also cover concepts that are generic to any sort of development environment. The goal is to develop a better working relationship between dev and QA teams within the software development industry.
