

Crystal Koenig

Assistant Professor of Anthropology at Southern Utah University

Cedar City, UT, US

Assistant Professor of Anthropology, History, & Sociology; Specializing in biological anthropology and primatology

Biography

Dr. Crystal Koenig is an assistant professor of anthropology in the Department of History, Sociology, and Anthropology at Southern Utah University. Dr. Koenig is a biological anthropologist and enjoys teaching biological anthropology, primatology, and forensic anthropology. Dr. Koenig's research has focused on the portrayal of primates in nature documentaries, the use of primate documentaries in teaching, and the overlap of humans and monkeys in Singapore. She has 13 peer-reviewed publications, eight other scholarly publications, and many conference presentations. Dr. Koenig earned her PhD and MA in biological anthropology from Washington University in St. Louis and an MA in social psychology from New Mexico State University. She has a BA in psychology and religious studies from The College of Wooster.

Industry Expertise

Education/Learning, Research

Areas of Expertise

Forensic Anthropology, Wildlife Ecology, Behavioral Ecology, Wildlife Documentaries, Biological Anthropology, Primatology, Social Psychology, Wildlife Conservation, Physical Anthropology

Education

Washington University in St. Louis

Ph.D. Biological Anthropology

Washington University in St. Louis

M.A. Biological Anthropology

New Mexico State University

M.A. Social Psychology

The College of Wooster

B.A. Psychology; Religious Studies

Accomplishments

Distinguished Educator Award
2023

Innovative Pedagogy Award
College of Humanities and Social Sciences, SUU, 2023

Early Career Award
College of Humanities and Social Sciences, SUU, 2022

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.