

Laura Doering

Assistant Professor of Strategic Management at Rotman School of Management

Toronto, ON, CA

Laura Doering's research examines how micro-level decisions and circumstances affect economic outcomes in developing countries

Biography

Laura Doering is an Assistant Professor of Strategic Management. As an economic sociologist, her research examines how micro-level decisions, relationships, and circumstances affect economic outcomes in developing countries. Substantively, she focuses on entrepreneurship and capital access in low-income areas. A former Fulbright Scholar, Professor Doering's research has received a number of awards, including the Burt Outstanding Paper Award from the Economic Sociology Section of the ASA. She teaches Entrepreneurship for Social Ventures at Rotman.

Industry Expertise

Research, Education/Learning, Writing and Editing

Areas of Expertise

Qualitative Analytics, Qualitative Research, Data Analysis, Statistic , Econometrics

Education

University of Chicago

Ph.D. Sociology and Business Administration

University of New South Wales

M.A. International Social Development

Dartmouth College

B.A. Psychological & Brain Sciences

University of Chicago

M.A. Sociology

Accomplishments

Burt Outstanding Paper Award-Economic Sociology; American Sociological Association

2014

Dissertation-Year Grant; Mellon Foundation
2013 - 2014

Dissertation Grant; Kauffman Foundation
2012

Fulbright IIE Scholar; Fulbright Foundation
2011

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.