

Laurent Michel, Ph.D.

Associate Professor of Computer Science and Engineering at University of Connecticut
Storrs, CT, US

Professor Laurent Michel is an expert in the areas of constraint programming, voting technology and cybersecurity

Biography

Co-director of the Connecticut Cybersecurity Center, which conducts research on all aspects of cybersecurity, including the emerging fields of mobile technology security and web-based services and applications, in addition to longer-established concerns with hardware and software vulnerabilities, voting technology, and cyber industry partnerships

Areas of Expertise

Computer Science, Voting Technology & Security, Cybersecurity

Affiliations

Connecticut Academy of Science and Engineering, Director, Synchrony Financial Center of Excellence in Cybersecurity, Past-president, International Association for Constraint Programming, Founding Member, Connecticut Voting Technology Research Center

Education

Brown University
Ph.D. Computer Science

Brown University
M.Sc. Computer Science

Universtaires Notre-Dame de la Paix
B.S. Computer Science

Accomplishments

Synchrony Financial Chair in Cybersecurity

Established by a generous donation from Synchrony Financial in 2016, this position is aimed at supporting a leader focused on the advancement of education and research in cybersecurity. Michel's appointment was approved by the UConn Board of Trustees during their meeting on December 11, 2019.

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.