

Lyndsay Green

Sociologist at Independent

Toronto, ON, CA

Lyndsay Green is a sociologist and researcher who has spent her career helping people use communications technologies for learning

---

Biography

Lyndsay Green is a pioneering sociologist and researcher who has spent her career helping people use communications technologies for learning. Motivated by her aging parents and family, she has now turned her research skills and knowledge of new technologies to find out what the baby boom generation should be doing to ensure they have a successful old age. Lyndsay's first general interest publication was Babies Aboard, which tells the story of sailing with her young daughters. The book encourages sailing parents to keep their boat even after a baby arrives, and provides advice on staying safe and having fun. The book was published in 1990 and the Customer Reviews on Amazon.com gives this twenty-year old book 4 stars out of 5. Lyndsay has been writing about social issues for decades, most often on topics linked to her work with learning technologies.

---

Industry Expertise

Research, Writing and Editing

---

Areas of Expertise

Sociology, Communication, Retirement Education, Aging and Elderly, Parenting and Technology

---

Event Appearances

Ready to Retire?

Institute of Advanced Financial Planners Symposium 2016

---

Education

University of Toronto

Master of Arts Sociology

University of Western Ontario

Bachelor of Arts sociology, psychology majors

---

Accomplishments

Best-Selling Author

You Could Live a Long Time: Are You Ready? (2010) and Ready to Retire? (2016) on the best seller lists

University of Toronto Arbor Award

In recognition for her work as Chair of the University of Toronto Arts Centre. The Arbor Awards "recognize volunteers for outstanding personal service to the university."

---

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.