

Meca Williams-Johnson

Professor at Georgia Southern University

Statesboro, GA, US

Meca R. Williams-Johnson's mixed methods research emphasis explores student motivation, emotions, teaching and learning.

Biography

Dr. Meca Williams-Johnson holds a Doctorate of Philosophy in Educational Psychology and teaches research methods in the College of Education at Georgia Southern University in Statesboro, Georgia. Her professional experiences coupled with academic training have forged a particular mixed methods research emphasis exploring emotions and its impact on teaching and learning. Additionally, Dr. Williams-Johnson investigates, student motivation and parents' efficacy beliefs in homeschooling. Through planning, conducting, and publishing several research studies, Dr. Williams-Johnson has contributed to the larger body of knowledge by reporting recommendations to achieve better educational experiences for all students.

Areas of Expertise

Black Feminist Theory, African-American Education, Qualitative Research Design, Teacher Efficacy, Parental Involvement, Student Motivation, Emotions in Teaching and Learning, Mixed-Methods In Social Research

Affiliations

American Psychological Association, American Association of University Women, American Educational Research Association, National Alliance of Black School Education, National Black Home Educators, National Association for the Advancement of Color People

Education

University of Georgia

Ph.D. Educational Psychology

Florida State University

M.S. Secondary Education

Southern University and A & M College

B.S. Secondary Education in Social Sciences

Accomplishments

Georgia Southern University Award for Excellence in Contributions to Instruction
2016 Georgia Southern University Award for Excellence in Contributions to Instruction

Eagle Leadership Academy ? Provost Selected Member
2016 Eagle Leadership Academy ? Provost Selected Member, Georgia Southern University

American Educational Research Association Reviewer of the Year
2005 American Educational Research Association Reviewer of the Year, American Educational Research Association, Service, Professional

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.