

Michael Carriere, Ph.D.

Professor, Director, Honors Program at Milwaukee School of Engineering

Milwaukee, WI, US

Dr. Michael Carriere is an urban historian, with expertise in American history, urban studies and sustainability.

Biography

Dr. Michael Carriere is a professor in MSOE's Humanities, Social Science and Communication Department. He also is director of the Honors Program. He is an urban historian and studies the growth and evolution of communities and the impact of social issues. He works closely with MSOE's honors students on "real-world" projects that allow young engineers to develop their respective skill sets while practicing a pedagogy based on collaboration, interdisciplinary and inter-institutional partnerships. Carriere spent two years as a junior fellow at the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, a Washington D.C. think tank, before entering graduate school at the University of Chicago and earning a Ph.D. in American history.
