Biography

Bonjour et Welcome ! I am a political scientist with an expertise in Canadian politics, public policy and immigration. I also conduct research on provincial politics (Quebec but mostly all Canadian provinces) and am an active observer of federal and municipal politics. I am recognized for my capacity to explain and analyze Quebec politics for non-Quebec audience. Je suis une politologue détenant une expertise en immigration, en politiques publiques et politique canadienne. J'effectue aussi des recherches sur les provinces (le Québec et les autres provinces) et je suis activement la politique fédérale et municipale. Bio officielle: Mireille Paquet studies public policies for immigrant selection and immigrant integration in Canada and in other traditional immigrant-receiving societies. She directs the Centre for Immigration Policy Evaluation (CIPE). Her current work ? funded by the SSHRC and by the FQRSC ? focuses on the governance of immigration and integration policies in federal regimes (Canada, United States and Australia), with a specific attention to the activism and activities of subnational units. Dr. Paquet is also conducting research on public administration and immigration, and is especially interested in the role of public servant in the formulation of immigrant selection policies. In the past, she has also conducted research on citizenship policy, citizenship tests and civic integration, immigration integration in Canada and on policies to attract and integrate newcomers in francophone minority communities. Je suis francophone et trop bilingue !
