

Molly Youngkin

Professor of English at Loyola Marymount University

Los Angeles, CA, US

Bellarmino College of Liberal Arts

Biography

Dr. Youngkin, who has taught at LMU since 2007, specializes in nineteenth-century British literature, especially the Victorian novel. She enjoys archival research and spends her summers working at libraries such as the British Library, the Huntington Library, and the College of Psychic Studies. She teaches courses in Victorian literature, as well as gender studies, genre and narrative theory, and animal studies. She currently is working on a book about Spiritualist journalism and a 4-volume collection about the rise and fall of literary realism.

Areas of Expertise

Romantic and Victorian Literature, Gender Studies and Narrative Theory, Nineteenth-Century British Literature

Affiliations

Research Society for Victorian Periodicals, Victorian Interdisciplinary Association of the Western United States

Education

Ohio State University

Ph.D. Nineteenth-Century British Literature

Wright State University

M.A. English Literature

University of Dayton

B.G.S. Humanities

Accomplishments

Curran Fellowship

Research Society for Victorian Periodicals, 2016

BCLA Summer Research Grant
Loyola Marymount University, 2016

BCLA Summer Research Grant
Loyola Marymount University, 2013

BCLA Faculty Research Account
Loyola Marymount University, 2012

BCLA College Fellowship
Loyola Marymount University, Spring 2011

BCLA Summer Research Grant
Loyola Marymount University, 2009

Finalist, Colby Scholarly Book Prize
Research Society for Victorian Periodicals, 2008

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.