

Nina Newman, Ph.D.

Doctoral Faculty - Infant & Early Childhood Development - School of Psychology at Fielding Graduate University

Santa Barbara, CA, US

Doctoral Faculty in the Infant & Early Childhood Development Program

---

Biography

Nina Newman has a PhD in Clinical Psychology and an extensive background in neuropsychology. She did a postgraduate fellowship in Clinical Psychology and has had training in eating and body image disorders and, separately, in Neuropsychology. She has been involved with a pediatric traumatic brain injury research program at a major research university for over a decade, focusing on the impact of injury on the development of psychiatric disorders as well as on long-term outcome and family. She has run parent education programs and consulted parents and in schools. She has also done consulting with individuals and organizations, focusing on executive functions and psych-education.

---

Industry Expertise

Education/Learning, Research, Mental Health Care, Writing and Editing

---

Areas of Expertise

How Human Behavior is Formed and Impacted By the Interactional Influences of Biology Cognition and Social/Emotional Factors, Psychiatric and Cognitive Problems After Pediatric Traumatic Brain Injury, Executive Functions, Learning and Attention Disorders, Education and Educational Leadership, Training and Educating Professionals Who Work With Children and Adolescents

---

Education

Fielding Graduate University

PhD Clinical Psychology

University of California, Los Angeles

BA English Literature

University College, London (UCL)

Certificate 20th Century Literature and Drama

---

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.