

Paul Herrnson, Ph.D.

Professor of Political Science at University of Connecticut

Storrs, CT, US

Paul Herrnson's interests include political parties and elections, money and politics, and voting systems and election administration.

Biography

Paul Herrnson earned his Ph.D. at the University of Wisconsin-Madison and his BA at Binghamton University. He is a Professor of Political Science at the University of Connecticut. His primary interests include political parties and elections, money and politics, and voting systems and election administration. He teaches courses on campaigns and elections and other aspects of American politics.

Areas of Expertise

Political Behavior, American Institutions and Politics, Election Administration, Voting Systems, Public Opinion, Money and Politics, Elections, Political Parties, Voting Technology

Affiliations

American Political Science Association : Member, Midwest Political Science Association : Member, New England Political Science Association : Member, Southern Political Science Association: Past President, Journal of Election Administration Research & Practice : Editorial Board, American Politics Review : Editorial Board

Education

University of Wisconsin-Madison

Ph.D. Political Science

University of Wisconsin-Madison

M.A. Political Science

State University of New York

B.A Political Science

Accomplishments

Board of Regents Award for Public Service, University System of Maryland

2013

Award for Outstanding Teaching in Political Science, American Political Science Association and Pi
Sigma Alpha Political Science National Honor Society
2010

Edward M. Johnson, Jr. Memorial Faculty Fellowship, University of Maryland 2010 - 2013

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.