

Peter Lin

Director, Primary Care Initiatives at Diabetes Canada

Toronto, ON, CA

Dr. Peter Lin lectures and speaks throughout the world and maintains two busy family practices in Toronto.

Dr. Peter Lin began his studies in the Faculty of Science and Engineering at the University of Toronto in Toronto, Ontario. Midway through, he moved to the Faculty of Medicine, where he completed his studies and became involved in research. Over the years, it became apparent to him that there was a wide chasm between research and clinical practice, and he moved into clinical practice in primary care and eventually into teaching in order to help bridge this gap. He served as the medical director at the Health & Wellness Centre, University of Toronto Scarborough, for 7 years. Currently, he is the Director of Primary Care Initiatives at the Canadian Heart Research Centre. He lectures and speaks throughout the world and maintains two busy family practices in Toronto. Dr. Lin is a consultant for Perspectives in Cardiology, and is on the editorial board of The Canadian Review of Alzheimer's Disease and Other Dementias (formerly, The Canadian Alzheimer Disease Review). He has been the chairman of the Dementia Congress in the US for the last 4 years. He has also served on the editorial board of Pri-Med, a US company that provides education for physicians. Dr. Lin received a teaching award from the College of Family Physicians in 2011.

Health and Wellness, Research, Education/Learning, Training and Development, Health Care - Services

Diabetes, Clinical Research, Clinical Practice, Diabetes and Dementia, Cardiology

Canadian Heart Research Centre : Director Primary Care Initiatives, Practice Update Primary Care : Associate Editor Elsevier WebPortal

The ABCDEs of a Healthy Lifestyle
CDA Webinar

University of Toronto
MD. Medicine

Teaching Award
Awarded by the College of Family Physicians.

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.