Expert in Behavioral IT®, a unique multi-disciplinary strategy to cut Cost, Time & Risk of ERP/IT.

Other Skills: Knowing Your Inner Self

Biography

Most managers and CXOs have an inherent fear that they do not know IT. Prem has a good news for them. Managers and CXOs do not need to know IT, they only need to know Behavioral IT?.

Behavioral IT is a trademarked term coined by Prem to describe a unique and essential skill required by all CXOs and top managers to succeed in this IT driven corporate world. And it is much easier for them to learn this skill. Prem has also developed a Behavioral IT Framework for successful IT Transition, which all managers can use and reap the benefits of technology for improved efficiency and personal growth. Prem's logo is "Behavioral IT for Personal Success in an IT Driven World". .

An experienced IT Professional and author of book "God in Two Minutes", Prem has experience both as CIO in Manufacturing companies and as Senior IT Professional in SEI CMM Level 5 companies.

Having closely worked with people to deliver software and make IT work within the socio-political environments in companies, he has a strong insight into what it takes for top managers to succeed with IT in companies. You will find all aspects of IT - technology, business processes, emotional, behavioral and socio-psychological - addressed in his real life case studies. . Apart from IT

Management, he speaks on two other topics close to his heart - a "scientific" analysis of religion, and on Knowing your Inner Self (based on psychology of subconscious mind). These three seem to be completely diverse topics, but strangely they have something in common. Firstly, they are all based on common principles of "Psychology of Change". Secondly, they are all driven by a common passion and goal - a passion to bridge divides and unite people, a passion for spreading love, not hatred. . His seminar on Behavioral IT (<https://premkamble.com/seminarbehavit>) tries to bridge what he calls a big digital divide in corporates - the divide between IT and non-IT or IT and top management. His talk based on his book "God in Two Minutes?"

(<https://www.amazon.com/dp/B005RQCBNQ>) tries to unite a world divided by religion. His talk on psychology and subconscious mind (<https://premkamble.com/seminarsubcon>) helps to unite individuals and families in feuds. . Uniting a divided world, divided corporate businesses and individuals gives him great satisfaction. More details about him, his seminars & articles are available
