

Regina Rahimi

Professor at Georgia Southern University

Savannah, GA, US

Regina Rahimi research is focused on issues of gender and sexuality in education and middle and high school drop outs.

Biography

Dr. Regina Rahimi is a Professor in the department of Middle Grades and Secondary Education at Georgia State University. Her interests include, issues of gender and sexuality in education, middle and high school drop outs, adolescent literacy and race and class in education. Dr. Rahimi is currently researching Trauma Informed Pedagogy and working with teachers and pre service teachers to implement this approach. Also, Dr. Rahimi is looking at the implementation of English instructional strategies in various geographical contexts.

Areas of Expertise

Race and Class in Education, Middle and High School Drop Outs, Issues of Gender in Education, Issues of Sexuality in Education, Adolescent Literacy

Affiliations

American Educational Studies Association, AMLE, American Educational Research Association, Georgia Council of the Teachers of English, ASCD

Education

Georgia Southern University

Ed.D. Curriculum Studies

Georgia Southern University

Ed. Leadership/Supervision Certification

Georgia Southern University

Ed.S. Middle Grades Education

Armstrong State College

B.S. Middle Grades Education

Accomplishments

Best Paper Award

2013 Best Paper, Awarded by the International Association of Social Science and Behavioral Research Association

Nominated for Brockmeier Award

2009 Nominated for Brockmeier Award, Armstrong State University

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.