

Richard Tunney

Professor and Head of Psychology at Aston University

Birmingham, , GB

Professor Tunney's research is on judgement and decision-making. He also researches behavioural addiction including gambling.

Biography

Richard Tunney is an experimental cognitive psychologist by background. Most of his research is on judgement and decision-making. In recent years, he has focussed on surrogate decision-making (DMfO), behavioural addiction and impulsivity. Other research interests include: implicit learning and categorization, episodic memory, second-language acquisition, and pro-social behaviour.

Areas of Expertise

Decision-Making, Gambling, Judgement and decision-making, Surrogate Decision-Making, Impulsivity

Education

University of York

DPhil Psychology

University of Sussex

BSc Experimental Psychology

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.