Testimonials

Susan Davis-Ali, Ph.D.

?I hired Rob for his strong communication skills and knowledge of test development. Rob makes a great first impression and is someone I was always happy to send out to meet with clients. He is extremely detail oriented and has a strong technical background - which are important assets in the testing industry. Rob understands for-profit business, makes solid, ethical business decisions, and is someone who is a lot of fun to work with.?

Lauren Wood, PhD, LP, RN

?Robert is the most informed and up-to-date executive with whom I have ever worked. He keeps his ear to the ground to ensure that the product is delivered on time and to specifications. He also keeps up with the latest information in the testing industry and in the business world at large. This knowledge can help organizations prepare for future challenges and manage these challenges--or even thrive because the company is ready to meet the challenges head-on. Rob also keeps up with current hardware and software opportunities to enhance the efficiency and effectiveness of the team, his colleagues, and the company at large. Beyond that, Rob is a great colleague--fun to have around, great with clients, and quick-witted"
