

Robin Miskolcze

Professor of English at Loyola Marymount University

Los Angeles, CA, US

Bellarmino College of Liberal Arts

Biography

Robin Miskolcze teaches courses in American Romanticism, American Realism and Naturalism, 19th-Century American women writers and early American culture. She is currently Director of the English Graduate Program. Her book Women and Children First: 19th-Century Sea Narratives and American Identity (2008) examines images of women at sea as passengers, cross-dressed sailors and slaves within antebellum narratives ranging from novels and sermons to newspaper accounts and lithographs. Professor Miskolcze has also published her research in journals such as Nineteenth-Century Contexts and Leviathan: A Journal of Melville Studies. Her current research interests include 19th-century representations of homelessness, Mobility Studies, and Oceanic Studies.

Areas of Expertise

Early American Culture, English Literature, American Romanticism, American Realism and Naturalism, 19th Century American Women Writers

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.