

Jeffrey Rosensweig

Associate Professor of Finance; Director, The Robson Program for Business, Public Policy, and Government at Emory University, Goizueta Business School

Atlanta, GA, US

Biography

Jeff Rosensweig is an associate professor of International Business and Finance. He is also Director of the Global Perspectives Program. Jeff specializes in global strategy, global economics, and international finance. Prior to joining Emory in January 1988, he was Senior International Economist at the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta. Jeff has also taught at M.I.T. and in the economics department and the School of Management at Yale University. Jeff's research into global trends leads to frequent keynote lectures to business and academic audiences. His current research focuses on three main topics. First --business linkages with the emerging global economy. Second -- the implications of globally divergent demographic trends for business. Third -- factors affecting competition in the global travel and tourism industry.

Industry Expertise

Business Services, Financial Services, Education/Learning, International Trade and Development

Areas of Expertise

Business Strategy in a Global Economy, Global Economic Trends and Linkages, International Finance

Education

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

PhD International and Monetary Economics

Oxford University

MA Philosophy, Politics and Economics

Yale University

BA & MA Economics

Accomplishments

Emory Williams Teaching Award

Awarded by the Goizueta Business School

WEMBA Distinguished Educator Award
Awarded by the Goizueta Business School

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.