

Sean Valles

Associate Professor at Michigan State University

East Lansing, MI, US

I study the interplay of ethics and scientific evidence in population health, including race and migration issues and climate change issues.

---

Biography

Sean Valles is an Associate Professor with a dual appointment in the Michigan State University Lyman Briggs College and the Department of Philosophy. His research spans a range of topics in the philosophy of population health, from the use of evidence in medical genetics to the roles played by race concepts in epidemiology. He is author of the the 2018 book, Philosophy of Population Health: Philosophy for a New Public Health Era. He is also Director of the MSU Science and Society @ State Program, supporting interdisciplinary faculty collaborations that join the humanities, arts, and sciences.

---

Industry Expertise

Research, Education/Learning

---

Areas of Expertise

Philosophy of Population Health, Race in Science, Health Justice, Climate Change Philosophy, Population Health Ethics, Public Health Ethics, Health Equity, Philosophy of Science, Race in Medicine

---

Education

Indiana University

Ph.D. History and Philosophy of Science

---

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.