

Seth Cohen

Professor at UC San Diego

La Jolla, CA, US

Seth Cohen's research and experience include drug development, advance materials, and science policy.

Biography

Cohen attended Stanford University where he obtained a Bachelor of Science degree in chemistry and a Bachelor of Arts degree in political science. Upon completion of his undergraduate education he moved to the University of California, Berkeley where he studied under the guidance of Kenneth N. Raymond. After completing his Ph.D. at U.C. Berkeley, he moved to Boston, to perform postdoctoral research in the laboratory of Stephen J. Lippard at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. After about two and a half years in Boston he moved to his present position at UC San Diego. On July 1, 2011, he was promoted to the position of professor, and served as chair of the Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry at UC San Diego from July 2012 to June 2015.

Areas of Expertise

Drug Discovery, Metal Organic Frameworks, Bioinorganic Chemistry, Synthesis, Inorganic Chemistry, Materials, Medicinal Chemistry, Science Policy

Education

University of California, Berkeley

Ph.D. Chemistry

Stanford University

B.S. Chemistry

Stanford University

B.A. Political Science

Accomplishments

Freeman Lecturer, University of Sydney

2018

TREE Award, Research Corporation for Scientific Advancement

2017

Chancellor's Award for Excellence in Postdoctoral Mentoring
2017

Arthur C. Cope Scholar Award, American Chemical Society
2016

Leslie E. Orgel Faculty Scholar
2015

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.