Dream Big, Live Wise

This is my fundamental inspiring talk on developing dreams and goals that may seem out of reach, however by employing a number of very simple philosophies reaching big goals is inevitable. By employing personal experience of wanting to own a Lotus Elise by the age of 25, as well as going from being obese to running marathons, triathlons and more; I'm able to empathize with audiences and show that anyone can do it. Get in touch today to see how I can assist you and others you know.

Dream big, live wise. Inspirational words used by the self employed entrepreneur Simon Hill. The biggest and most successful asset of his inspiration was his workshops to help others achieve their goals. The most important thing in life is finding your goals. Having an idea, a desire, and giving yourself the motivation to achieve anything you put your mind too. The workshops really help you dig deep into your unconscious mind; searching for your real ambitions. The methods Simon uses in his workshops really help others identify what they want to achieve or even, who to become. Both short term and long term goals become much more clear and give you a sense of self belief to help you reach your full potential.

I rarely find workshop leaders who teach their subject based on firsthand experience. Simon is very passionate about entrepreneurship and the fact that someone at his age is able to run multiple businesses along other activities such as teaching is outstanding. I would definitely recommend Simon J Hill to anyone who needs that kick in life.

I was extremely lucky to have had the support that I required available to me throughout the course. The combination of Simon having vast theoretical knowledge as well as firsthand experience in what was being taught allowed him to explain all aspects clearly so I inevitably understood the work far quicker than expected. His character means that he was easily approachable and all questions asked were explained fully and examples given in order to help improve my understanding.

Simon has been of great help to me, he has helped me understand the aspects of business planning, and i would recommend him for coaching to anyone. He is very passionate and is great at explaining things till you understand.

Simon is an amazing workshop leader in regards to Social Media and how it has shaped our modern day society. Not only does he explain it in such terms that are interesting and relatable but I now feel as I have a deeper understanding on not only how Social Media can aid a business but how it could shape the future also.

I Kler

Simon Hill helped me and everyday people to realise our weaknesses but ultimately play to our strengths in the business world to improve our confidence. Creative thinking in business was a great exercise for practicing pitching to an audience. He is definitely doing something right.
