

Ted Bridis

Lecturer at University of Florida

Gainesville, FL, US

Ted Bridis is a veteran investigative journalist who teaches students all aspects of investigative journalism.

Biography

Before joining UF in 2018, Ted Bridis was editor of the Associated Press' Pulitzer Prize-winning Washington investigative team and was AP's leading newsroom expert on security practices for source protection and on the U.S. Freedom of Information Act and related laws. His investigative team won the 2012 Pulitzer and Goldsmith prizes for investigative reporting on NYPD intelligence programs, and he led AP's efforts that won the $10,000 Eugene S. Pulliam First Amendment Awards in 2011 and 2014. He won the 2014 Shadid Award for Journalism Ethics and the 2014 Society of Professional Journalism Ethics in Journalism Award. He was the first journalist to discover and trace Hillary Clinton's private email server to her home's basement in Chappaqua, New York.

Areas of Expertise

Freedom of Information, Political Communication, First Amendment, Professional Responsibility & Legal Ethics, Investigative Journalism, Reporting

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.