

Tiffany Rodkell

Managing Member at Touch My Heart Instead LLC

Baltimore, Maryland Area, MD, US

Motivational Speaker and Managing Member of Touch My Heart Instead LLC

Biography

Tiffany Rodkell was raised by an aunt who always instilled the mentality of striving for the best within her at a young age. She attended catholic schools and aspired to become an actress and a model. After graduating high school, she gave her life to Christ and to the church which brainwashed her into someone that she had not aspired to become. After finally breaking free from the church, she realized there's a thin line between a person's dedication to the church and their dedication to God. Through the years, Tiffany has encountered many individuals who have also been devastated by the people of God and who decided to leave God altogether. She feels led to bring God's people back to Him. Why the church? Why did Tiffany Rodkell gravitate to the church so intensely? She grew up facing many of life's hardships. Tiffany searched for love in all the wrong places, from the streets to the pulpit. She has learned in her adult years that it is only through God that one can receive such fulfillment. It is not through people, places, or things that you will be given your identity, but through one decision. That decision is changing for the better. She motivates and inspires through speeches to help others realize the strength that lies within one's self.
