

Tim Baines

Professor of Operations Strategy at Aston University

Birmingham, , GB

Professor Baines specialises in the realisation of competitive manufacturing operations.

Biography

Professor Tim Baines specialises in the realisation of competitive manufacturing operations. He works extensively across the disciplines of management and engineering, is highly active in postgraduate and executive teaching and supervision, has a strong track record of raising research funding, and has consistently published his work in the leading journals of his field. He has experience of a wide range of industrial engineering, technology management, and manufacturing management disciplines, and works with the leading companies in his field including Rolls-Royce, Caterpillar, Alstom, MAN and Xerox. His career started with a technician apprenticeship, and has progressed through a variety of industrial and academic positions, including that of Visiting Scholar within the Centre for Technology, Policy and Industrial Development at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He holds a variety of positions, including membership of EPSRC College of Peers, a Fellow of both the Institution of Mechanical Engineers, and Institution of Engineers and Technologists, and is a Chartered Engineer.

Areas of Expertise

Business Models, Advanced Services, Servitization, Manufacturing, Operations Strategy

Affiliations

Institution of Engineers and Technologists : Fellow, Institution of Mechanical Engineers : Fellow, EPSRC College of Peers : Member, European Operations Management Association : Member, Production and Operations Management Society : Member, The Consortium of Manufacturing Engineering Heads : Member, UK Manufacturing Professors Forum : Member

Education

Cranfield University

PhD Manufacturing Strategy Formulation

Cranfield University

MSc Manufacturing Systems Engineering

Please click here to view the full profile.

This profile was created by Expertfile.