

Dr. Thomas C. English

Invention Advisor at InventionShare

Costa Mesa, CA, US

Tom English is an expert in applied research and engineering in time and frequency related areas

Biography

Applied research and engineering in time and frequency related areas. Emphasis has been on atomic standards, especially rubidium clocks (including product and manufacturing process development). Basic research in the areas of atomic and molecular physics with emphasis on experimental molecular beam spectroscopy, laser spectroscopy of atomic beams and optical pumping, including initiation and supervision of such research.

Areas of Expertise

Laser Spectroscopy, Rubidium Clocks, Atomic Physics, Invention Advisory, Electrical Engineering, Molecular Physics, Molecular Beam Spectroscopy

Education

Lafayette College

B.S. Physics

University of Michigan

M.S. Physics

University of Michigan

Ph.D. Physics

Harvard University

Postdoctoral Fellow
